How Did Lakeshore Productions, Inc. Get Started?

One might say that the start of Random Lake's summer theater program was May 24, 1994. Electors of the School District of Random Lake approved a $2.29 million referendum (708-442) to build a new high school gym, remodel the old gym into an auditorium, and make other improvements.

The new gym and 466-seat auditorium were dedicated on Oct. 25, 1995. At the same time three area high school seniors (Ryan Klug, Andy Ritger and Victor Schueller) brought forward their dream to start a summer theater program in Random Lake. Key community members supported Klug, Ritger and Schueller as they got approvals from Random Lake's school administration and the school board.

For their first show the director trio chose the L. Frank Baum classic, The Wizard of Oz. There was no problem finding people to audition for parts, but such a familiar story has high expectations. Klug served as artistic director, Schueller as musical director and Ritger as technical director — and the show was a great success.

The same trio remained involved the next two years, but for 1999 the board of directors bore the full responsibility for the show — and that is how Lakeshore Productions Inc. continues today. Thanks for your support!

Director's Notes

One Normal Night! That is what everyone expects, but tonight is the exception. Welcome to The Addams Family, where being delightfully ooky and spooky is not only accepted but celebrated.

In this world, it isn't just The Moon and Me that shines. Whether you're here to watch Wednesday eat her first worm, see Pugsley eagerly await his next round of torture, or discover the many secrets hidden within the Addams mansion, you'll quickly find that every wonderfully peculiar member of this family has something to celebrate.

This production has been an incredible journey for our cast, crew, pit orchestra, and creative team. They have embraced the heart of this show, bringing boundless energy, humor, and creativity to every rehearsal. Their dedication has transformed this wonderfully weird world into one filled with laughter, warmth, and unforgettable moments.

Maybe I'm Crazier Than You, but I've always believed the heart of this story is family. Beyond the humor and the macabre, The Addams Family reminds us that the people who love us should also celebrate what makes us different. That idea became the foundation of this production. Because When You're an Addams, you don't have to fit someone else's definition of normal, you can Live Before We Die by embracing exactly who you are.

As you enter the Addams mansion tonight, I invite you to laugh loudly, embrace the unexpected, and celebrate the wonderfully peculiar people in your own life. After all, being "normal" is overrated, and sometimes the strangest families have the biggest hearts.

Enjoy the show!

From the LPI Board of Directors

Welcome to our 2026 summer production of The Addams Family! We are thrilled to invite you into a world that is delightfully spooky, wonderfully eccentric, and full of heart. This musical reminds us that every family has its own quirks, every person has something unique to offer, and love is strongest when it makes room for honesty, change, and acceptance.

As the Addams family prepares to meet the Beinekes for one unforgettable dinner, audiences are treated to laughter, music, dancing, and a story that celebrates the beautifully unusual things that make each of us who we are. Beneath the humor and gothic charm is a message that feels especially meaningful in community theatre: when we welcome differences, embrace creativity, and support one another, something truly memorable can happen.

This production is the result of countless hours of dedication from our cast, crew, directors, musicians, volunteers, families, sponsors, and supporters. From the first rehearsal to opening night, every detail has been shaped by people who believe in the power of live theatre and the joy it brings to our community. On behalf of the Board, thank you for sharing your time, talent, energy, and enthusiasm with us.

We would also like to extend our sincere appreciation to the Random Lake School District for its 30-year relationship with LPI and its continued generosity in allowing us to utilize its facilities. This long-standing partnership has helped make summers like this possible for generations of performers, volunteers, and audience members. We are especially grateful for the upgraded theatre, made possible through grant funding, which

Whether you are a longtime supporter or joining us for the first time, we hope this performance leaves you smiling, laughing, and maybe even appreciating the wonderfully kooky side of your own family.

Thank you for being part of our summer season. Sit back, enjoy the show, and welcome to the family.
